I’m a lie ...

Since you left, my life is a mess
(And) I don’t like the man I’ve become
(And) I drink too much wine to feel fine
And my life is a living lie.

I don’t like the life that I live
I don’t like the songs that I write
I don’t like the words that I say
I don’t like the lies that I tell.

It’s a lie when I say I hate you
It’s the truth when I say I still love you
Only I can’t get through to you
So I play many parts apart from mine.

I don’t like the rooms without you
I don’t like the time without you
I don’t like the nights without you
I don’t like no one without you.

(Why) Was my love not enough for you
Was it really so wrong, so bad?
I don’t like if you don’t like me
I don’t like if you wipe me out.

It’s a lie when I say I hate you
It’s the truth when I say I still love you
Only I can’t get through to you
So I play many parts apart from mine.

When we meet it’s not me that you see
I can’t be what I am without you
You don’t say you’re still in love with me
SO I HURT ‘CAUSE I’M HURT BY YOUR COLDNESS
SO I LIE ‘CAUSE I CAN’T TELL THE TRUTH
I’M A LIE, BUT I’M NOT A LIAR.
