One-way street of love

I am driving in the dark
All alone on lonesome streets
Dreary voids and eerie moon
The night is empty of life
And quiet as a hermit's doorbell

(But) I'm on my way to your heart
I'm on my way to your heart
I'm on my way to your heart

I ask you if you love me
You don't say yes you don't say no
You tell me that you just don't know
Your answer drives me crazy
Because in the end it means
(That) My love is a one-way love
My love is a one-way love
My love is a one-way love

But I won't give up my pride
I won't run away and hide
And my heart won't slowly die
From lack of your former love
Like a lamp running out of oil

(But) I'll stay on my way to you
I'll stay on my way to you
I'll stay on my way to you

I ask you if you love me
You don't say yes you don't say no
You tell me that you just don't know
Your answer drives me crazy
Because in the end it means
(That) My love is a one-way love
My love is a one-way love
My love is a one-way love

I won't be your whimpering pup
Nor the shadow of your dog
As in a song by Jacques Brel
Neither will I weep or creep
For an answer of your love

(But) I'll snake my way to your heart
I'll snake my way to your heart
I'll snake my way to your heart

I ask you if you love me
You don't say yes you don't say no
You tell me that you just don't know
Your answer drives me crazy
Because in the end it means
(That) My love is a one-way love
My love is a one-way love
My love is a one-way love

I'll fight and struggle for you
I am the bait to catch you
The magnet that draws you up
And I'll drive on this lonely road
Until some day we will meet
(Meet) On this one-way street of love
On this one-way street of love
On this one-way street of love
